Chairperson Bavis addressed the first item on the Agenda:

1. Recertification of Site Plan for property located 770 Red Fox Circle. Property is zoned RR1 - Rural Residential 1.

Chairperson Bavis read from a letter from Donald Lewis, Jr., PE of A.E.Y. Engineering dated January 31, 2019:

RE: Whitney Meadows Subdivision - Lot #24/770 Red Fox Circle
Site Plan Re-Approval

Dear Mr. Druschel:

The builder's client, Vicki Maher, is requesting recertification of the previously approved Lot #24 of the Whitney Meadows Subdivision. The lot's design by Clarence K. Burkwit, P.E., was approved on January 20, 1999 by the Town of Walworth Planning Board. The layout, design, and subsequent approval guidelines and parameters have not changed. The relative soil testing and septic designs are still applicable and valid and should be used for each new house/lot. Grading was performed as prescribed and the soil in the septic area appears to be unchanged.

Stemming from your concerns with any past construction activity within the proposed septic location, I visited the site to perform a new percolation test in the same location on the lot on January 26, 2019. The initial design used the flowrate for a three (3) bedroom house using older-styled plumbing fixtures with a 130 gal/day/bedroom flowrate. With the original 21-30 minute percolation rates, the approved design called for 325 lf of leach line. I obtained a slightly longer result of 32 minutes. Now, with the updated design parameters of 110 gal/day/bedroom flowrate using water saving devices/fixtures to lower flow rates, the leach bed requires a minimum of 330 lf of leach line. Despite the slower percolation rates, the use of more advanced fixtures only requires the need for an additional 5 lf of leach line. The initial design called for 6 lines at 60 lf = 360 lf, which surpasses the original and present design. The other parameters are also relevant for the septic tank and distribution size. Therefore, I recommend that the location and configuration of the initial system is still valid.

In discussions with the builder, I stressed the importance of his recognition of the neighboring lot to the north's basement water issues. He will strive to set the proposed house elevation based on the excavated water seepage elevation discovered (-58") from existing grade at the house location. It appears that the proposed finished floor elevation of 479.00 should allow the basement footer drainage piping to drain by gravity to the street's storm sewer. This should alleviate the need for a sump pump.
